WILSON SURE OF 413 VOTES

ILLINOIS SAFE, CALIFORNIA, IOWA, SOUTH DAKOTA AND WYOMING STILL IN DOUBT

New York, Nov. 7.—Uncertainty as to the electoral choice of California and Illinois, as developed by belated returns from both states, was the chief point of interest today, although the counting of ballots in several doubtful states still was under way.

That Illinois had gone to the Wilson column was indicated early in the evening, and California, which had been claimed by the Democrats shortly after the closing of the polls, first wavered toward the Progressive rank but later swung toward Wilson. The Wilson plurality, estimated Wednesday at 12,000 was cut to about a thousand with a number of remote precincts still unheard from. Progressive leaders claimed these would change the total to a Roosevelt plurality, but the missing precincts generally were accredited to the Democrats and the Wilson lead was small. California is thus in the doubtful column. It has thirteen electoral votes.

After apparently holding Illinois for nearly forty hours, from the time the polls closed, Col. Roosevelt lost his twenty-nine electoral votes late in the day when the assembling of state-wide returns showed a definite victory for Gov. Wilson.

On the strength of incomplete returns as to the popular vote for Wilson, Roosevelt and Taft, the estimate was made tonight that Gov. Wilson would not have a majority of all votes cast. In many states the popular vote has been only roughly estimated thus far; but the reports indicate that the combined vote of Roosevelt and Taft will be approximately 1,000,000 more than the vote for Gov. Wilson.

The figures will be materially changed by the final count, but it is expected the proportion for each candidate will not vary greatly.

The preliminary count gives Wilson approximately 46 per cent of the vote; Roosevelt 29 per cent and Taft 25 per cent. The total vote thus far reported is less than in 1908, while official returns are expected to bring it above those figures. In 1908 out of a combined vote of 14,030,858 cast for Taft and Bryan, President Taft received over 54 per cent.

Returns from Minnesota today confirmed the claim of Roosevelt to the twelve electoral votes of that state. The Wilson victory, claimed on the earlier returns, had become doubtful last night as the count progressed. Latest returns today, with many precincts still to be heard from, gave Roosevelt an apparently safe majority.

Salvation Army Congress.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 8.—The annual Salvation Army congress for the Northwest opened in this city today with an attendance of nearly 200 officers of the organization from points in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Northern Michigan and North and South Dakota. The congress will last about one week and will be devoted principally to the consideration of plans for the further extension of the Salvation Army work in the Northwest.

FUSIONISTS CONTROL TENNESSEE LEGISLATURE

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 8.—Additional legislature returns last night not only confirmed Tuesday night's reports, indicating a fusion legislature, but also increased the fusion lead. The senate will be composed of nine Independents, seventeen Democrats, including Shelby county's three and one district in doubt. The remaining districts of the thirty-three went Republican.

Worley in the Second, Bass in Hamilton, and Walsh in Gibson, together with Shelby's three, are anti-Patterson, which means the ex-governor's elimination from the senatorial race.

HOOPER IS ELECTED GOVERNOR OF TENNESSEE

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 8.—With returns in from every county in Tennessee except six, but many of them far from complete, figures received from the Commercial Appeal correspondents indicate the election of Gov. Ben W. Hooper over Benton R. McMillin by a majority of not to exceed 6,000. Present figures show Hooper to be in the lead by about 3,000, but as the counties still out or incomplete are largely controlled by Republicans, more complete figures will swell Hooper's total.

As the West Tennessee counties become more complete McMillin has gained about 500 or 600 votes, making his majority in the western grand division probably about that received in Shelby—5,907, or perhaps a little larger.

Hooper's vote is cut in east Tennessee over that cast two years ago by about 15 per cent, according to figures received late Wednesday night. This will bring him out of East Tennessee with between 20,000 and 22,000 majority.

Middle Tennessee counties continue to bring in decreased Democratic vote, although not so great as indicated Tuesday night.

The Commercial Appeal's Nashville correspondent says: "Unofficial and estimated majorities from all the counties in the state give Gov. Hooper majorities of 25,596, against McMillin majorities of 23,775, a margin for Hooper of 2,821. This lead, it is believed, will be increased, but not to a great extent. These figures in the main were gotten at Democratic headquarters, where, while Hooper's election is not publicly conceded, it is apparent that the leaders have practically given up hope of any other result.

The Republican leaders continue to claim a much larger majority, but their claims are extravagant.

Lay Corner Stone for Masonic Temple

Owensboro, Ky., Nov. 8.—The laying of the corner stone today for the new Masonic Temple in this city was made the occasion for a large and notable gathering of high degree Masons from many parts of Kentucky. The exercises were conducted under the auspices of the grand lodge of the order.

The Baptist Ladies Aid Society will conduct a Thanksgiving market Wednesday, Nov. 27. Anything usually served at this season will be had. Orders for same will be taken by Mrs. Stubblefield. Phone 288.

THE ELECTORAL VOTE TO DATE

The late returns make Wilson certain of 413 votes and it is probable that he will go even beyond that. California is listed as doubtful, although Wilson is still slightly in the lead. The same is true of Iowa. Roosevelt may possibly get South Dakota and Taft Wyoming, although Wilson is slightly in the lead.

DURANT DEMOCRATS HOLD A BIG CELEBRATION

Durant, Ok., Nov. 8.—Under the direction and management of Ober Shannon and R. T. Davis the democrats celebrated last night in the grand old way, by shooting anvils and otherwise making a great deal of noise.

The word had gone out early in the evening that here would be shooting of anvils on the vacant lot next to Houck's grocery and after supper a great crowd surrounded the lot and the streets were packed with people who came to assist in the merry-making, and to congratulate one another.

The small boy was in the height of his glory, as he was allowed to parade the streets with sticks and great tin buckets, making all the noise he possibly could.

The old-time Democrats who have been on the firing line fighting the battle for years and years, were out last night celebrating the first national victory since Cleveland's election.

Moose Meeting.

The Moose continues to grow in public favor. Last night a good class of candidates were initiated and a rousing good time was had. R. C. Roland, dictator, treated the herd to cigars. The lodge will attend the First Baptist church in a body Thanksgiving.

New Grain Tariff in Effect.

Winnipeg, Nov. 8.—The Canadian Pacific Railway today put into effect its new tariff on grain shipments from points in western Canada to Duluth and Minneapolis. In the belief of railway officials and shippers the new rates will result in large shipments of grain in bond being made during the remainder of the season from Alberta and Saskatchewan points to Duluth and Minneapolis.

Harvard and Vanderbilt.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 8.—North and South will battle at the Stadium gridiron tomorrow, when the eleven of Vanderbilt University and Harvard University will engage in what is regarded as one of the most notable of the inter-sectional football contests of the present season. It will be Vanderbilt's first invasion of this section of the country. Her eleven is regarded as the strongest aggregation among the big Southern colleges and close critics of the game are of the opinion that the Crimson will have to play her best against the Commodores.

Bumper Corn Crop Reported.

Lima, O., Nov. 8.—A corn crop 25 per cent larger than normal and of much better quality than last year is indicated in reports presented here today at a conference of the Tri-State Grain Producers and Dealers' Association. The association embraces the counties of northwestern Ohio, northern Indiana and southern Michigan.

WHAT GOOD ROADS MEAN

SOME OF THE BENEFITS THAT WOULD FOLLOW BUILDING OF SYSTEM.

I am glad to see the agitation of the question of good roads. No investment could be made in this country which would yield anything like the returns as an investment in good roads. Every dollar put into permanent road construction will be returned four-fold in increased farm values. Modern methods of transportation have a tendency to equalize values. People of the west no longer market a corn crop for 15c per bushel, or sometimes burn it for fuel, while the people of the north and east pay 60c per bushel. Railroad transportation has increased the value of western lands. They are rendered accessible to the markets of the world. A farm within a few miles of Ada is vastly more valuable than one ten miles away. With a good road ten miles out from the city in every direction the land would at that distance be worth as much as the same quality of land is now worth located three miles distant. A farmer could market his produce with greater ease and less expense over a ten mile stretch of good road than over any three miles of road leading out from this city. Every enterprising farmer, as well as every enterprising merchant ought to favor a movement to permanently improve the roads of this county for within the next few years this county will see a wonderful period of development and that county which offers the greatest facilities and conveniences for travel will appear most attractive to the desirable citizen seeking a home.

This summer I visited my old home in North Carolina. That state has within the past five years been reconstructed and it has been due in large measure to the building of permanent roads. Lands which were worn out and abandoned and were considered almost worthless a few years ago are now in a high state of cultivation and are yielding splendid returns. This country with its wonderful undeveloped agricultural possibilities will prove the marble of the ages whenever the roads are improved so that the lands are made accessible and attractive to a good class of farmers.

School Amendment May Lose.

Oklahoma City, Ok., Nov. 7.—In the absence of returns it appears the school amendment to the State Constitution, through which the State could extend aid to school districts so as to insure five months' school, while probably having a majority affirmative vote, has failed by lacking a constitutional majority. Voters in Western Oklahoma opposed the measure, believing that all the benefit would go to the former Indian Territory district, and that the Federal government would refuse future appropriations for benefit of the schools there. Many in former Indian Territory voted "no" on the question for fear it meant more taxes.

Ready for Trial of Gangmen.

New York, Nov. 8.—Preparations for the trial of the four gangsters indicted with former Police Lieutenant Becker for the murder of Herman Rosenthal were considerably advanced today, when the drawing of a jury was commenced from a special panel of 200 talesmen. The four accused gang leaders are to be given separate trials. "Whitey Lewis" will be the first to face prosecution. It is expected to have everything in readiness to begin his trial about the middle of next week. William Shapiro, driver of the "murder car," will be one of the leading witnesses for the prosecution.

Miss Milholland to Speak.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 8.—Miss Inez Milholland, the militant suffragist of New York, is billed as the principal speaker at the annual convention of the New Jersey Suffragist Association, which began its sessions in the assembly chamber of the state house here today. The convention will conclude with the election of officers tomorrow. Mrs. E. F. Feickert, of Dunellen, is slated to succeed Miss Clara Laddy as president of the association.

Perhaps Taft felt the same way when he issued his call for the observance of Thanksgiving this year.

IMPEDES SOCIALISM.

One of the brightest socialists of Carter county in speaking of the result of the election said the triumph of democracy was the greatest blow socialism in America had ever had. His argument was that socialism thrived under Republican misrule, that if the standpat republican had controlled the country for four years more that the socialists would have been able to have built up a formidable party; but with the awakening of the people as demonstrated in the overwhelming election of the democratic ticket there is no chance for socialism to make headway sufficient to constitute themselves a political party that will attract any prestige in a national way.—Ardmoreite.

After a lifetime of service in congress Uncle Joe Cannon has at last been retired to private life. It has been only two or three years since he was at the height of his power and when congressmen had to go to him hat in hand and beg for recognition. Very little business ever went through the house without his O. K. and with such power he was one of the most potent rulers in the world. It is all changed, however, fortune, which smiled on him so long has turned her face from him and in his old age he is caused to feel the sting of defeat. However, it is just another case of a man unable to keep pace with the thought of the country. He lives in another era and is even yet unable to comprehend the mighty awakening of the people.

CAPITAL WILL REMAIN

AT OKLAHOMA CITY
Although Guthrie still claims to have won the capital by a majority of 36,000, its chances appear to be rather slim. Oklahoma City papers submit figures by no means complete in which Guthrie is some 16,000 votes short of a majority. Even if there is but a small difference in the figures of the rival cities, the probabilities are that the "silent vote" will be sufficient to send the proposal to the bone yard, just as has been the case in a number of measures before.

First to Use Chloroform.
Chloroform as an anaesthetic was first used on the 30th of September, 1846, by Dr. W. T. G. Morton, a dentist, of Boston, in a case of tooth extraction, and thereafter by him in many difficult operations. The news of the discovery reached England in December, 1846, and British dentists immediately began to use it. Sir James Simpson, a Scotch physician (1811-1870) was the first to use it in hospital practice and this he did in 1847. His discovery was considered independent of that by the Boston dentist and in 1866 he was knighted. He had a public funeral when he died and a statue of him in bronze stands in Edinburgh.

AMERICAN SOLDIER: THE BEST

World's Records for Marksmanship All His, and He is Trained to Act on His Own Initiative.

If there is one big, distinguishing trait of the United States regular, it is individuality. In every one of the great foreign military nations, particularly Germany and Japan, battalion and company officers and enlisted men are carefully trained not to think for themselves. They are used as mere chess pieces under the guidance of a master mind. In this country, where our melting pot has yielded us an extraordinary self-reliant, cool thinking, intensive initiative product, it is only natural that our soldiers should be trained as are our civilians.

The United States army spends annually on rifle target practice five times the sum spent by any other army of an equal number of men. This applies, too, to our field and coast artillery. As a result, no better marksmen can be found than the American soldier and his cousin, the national guardsman, who is trained along the same lines. Every world's fire control and accuracy record with rifle and big gun is today held by the American soldier.

The United States army is small, in accordance with the will of the people not to support a large standing military establishment. But what we have is almost 100 per cent. efficient, the splendid nucleus of the big army of regulars, militia and volunteers which we should place in the field if occasion required. It is only in equipment—quartermaster, commissary, medicine and particularly ordnance stores—that our army is lacking.—Leslie's.

The Wealth of the South.

The southern states are not only looking into their own in the shape of material growth and prosperity, but are talking about it very convincingly. No longer is their light hidden under a bushel. The press of the south is telling the rest of the world what has been done in the last generation and the story is convincing many of the shrewdest judges that south of Mason and Dixon's line lies the land of opportunity.

In considering the progress the south has made in the last generation it must be remembered that its people were impoverished by war and unable to get credit in the money centers of this country and the rest of the world. The tide of immigration never flowed freely in its direction and for many years the burden of taxation was felt severely because it lacked industrial enterprises that would benefit by high tariffs. Slowly but surely the South made its way into the industrial field and now it competes on even terms with the North and East in many important lines of manufacturing. As a producer only of raw materials for others' use the South made little progress, but, with the introduction of manufacturing it has become rich almost overnight. The relation of the one to the other will always be a matter of dispute among theorists, but the hard fact that factories and widely distributed wealth have come to the South together is the argument that convinces practical men.

For fifteen years after the war was over the South stood almost still. Most of its factories were of merely local importance and it had to sell its raw materials for what others would pay. In 1880 the total capital invested in manufacturing was $329,000,000; in 1911 it was $3,397,000,000, a gain of almost 1,000 per cent. In 1880 the south sold nearly all of its cotton crop of 5,761,000 bales; its mills taking only about 26,000 bales; but in 1911 its mills consumed 2,700,000 bales out of a 1910-11 crop of more than 12,000,000 bales. Its production of cotton had grown 110 per cent and its mill consumption nearly 1,000 per cent. In cotton seed, practically a waste product in 1880, the south has discovered a mine of wealth. The total value of the output of the cotton seed mills in 1880 was less than $7,000,000; and in 1911 it was $145,000,000, a gain of more than 2,000 per cent.

Much has been said recently of the growth of the coal and iron business of the South. The value of mineral products has risen from some $13,000,000 in 1880 to $370,000,000 in 1911. The most striking gain has been made in petroleum, the production of which has risen from 179,000 barrels in 1880 to $5,000,000 barrels in 1911. The South now has some of the largest production wells in the country, and Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana must give place to the South and to California.

75TH ANNIVERSARY OF ### MEMORABLE MOBING

Alton, Ill., Nov. 7.—Seventy-five years ago tonight there occurred in this city an event which, with the single exception of the John Brown raid was probably the most sensational feature of the long struggle over the slavery question that preceded the civil war. This was the mobbing and destruction of an anti-slavery paper and the murder of its editor, Elijah P. Lovejoy. Although it occurred twenty-five years before the war, it contributed in a marked degree to that culmination.

Elijah P. Lovejoy was of an ardent, pious nature, and his advocacy of the cause for which he perished took the form of extremely violent attacks on the institution of slavery and all who directly or indirectly helped to favor and perpetuate it.

In 1826, Lovejoy, then a young man of 24, came from his home in Maine to St. Louis, where he established a school and became an industrious contributor to the press. Several years later he took an active interest in politics and became the editor of a political newspaper which advocated the election of Henry Clay for the presidency. Although he was unsuccessful in his campaign he earned the reputation and influence of a political leader, but in three years more he became possessed of so much religious zeal that he determined to enter the ministry, and he was licensed to preach in 1833.

As editor of the Observer, a religious paper published in St. Louis, Lovejoy began his most ardent advocacy of abolition. Before long he had become so violent in his agitation that a letter was signed by some of the most respected citizens of St. Louis which requested him to moderate the tone of his editorial utterances with regard to slavery.

Lovejoy replied to this letter in a statement in his paper which did not tend to conciliate his opponents. After this he was threatened with violence so determinedly that he decided to remove from St. Louis, and in 1836 he came to Alton, which was to be the scene of his death.

The citizens of Alton threatened him without result, and then mobs destroyed his press. As often as they wrecked it he replaced it, until three presses had been destroyed and a fourth one was ordered. The night after it was received a mob attacked the building. Lovejoy was there with some friends, and in the fight that followed one of the attacking party was killed. When the mob then undertook to fire the building Lovejoy was one of three volunteers to make a sortie. As soon as he got outside he was assailed with a storm of bullets and fell dead.

The tragic death of Lovejoy created a profound impression throughout the country, and an outburst of condemnation from the press. At a mass meeting held in Faneuil Hall, Boston, Wendell Phillips made his first public address. It was a speech that immediately made Phillips famous, and

HOW PIE WILL BE DISTRIBUTED

Oklahoma City, Nov. 8.—"The organization will control the patronage." Such, in substance, is the effect of a statement issued by Tom C. Harrill, chairman of the democratic state central committee, Thursday night. "The state committee," said Mr. Harrill, "will play no favorites. Every man who comes to the democratic state organization for support of his application for a place under the democratic administration will be sent back to the grass roots for indorsements. All of us have many friends. If we recommend them only, nobody else would have a chance. And such favoritism as that is contrary to all democratic principles. All applicants must first get the indorsement of their local organization, then their county organization, etc."

Chairman Harrill's statement prefaced a conversation as to the number of applicants busy. There are demonstrators in Oklahoma who have already made known their desire. The hotel corridors are already beginning to thicken either with applicants or those who are backing applicants. It is too early yet to name names, but a week's time will see developed as anxious fights for places as we have just seen for election.

There seems considerable difference of opinion as to just how many jobs within the state, whose holders would be confined to citizens of the state, are opened or vacated by Woodrow Wilson's election to the presidency. The general opinion is that all the postoffices are customarily vacated on the accession of a president of opposite political party, also the United States marshals and district attorneys, the land offices, the bank examiners' places, and the innumerable positions in the Indian service in the eastern side of the state, especially.

Whether United States Senator Gore and Congressman Charles Carter of the Fourth district, both of whom were here Thursday, concur in Chairman Harrill's statement that the organization must control the patronage is not known, but the fact that both the senator and the congressman were in consultation with the state chairman and the campaign manager, Hurlbert L. Bolen, while here, would make it appear that there might be some connection between them and Mr. Harrill's statement.

Rev. and Mrs. S. S. Holcomb and daughter left this morning for Chelsea, Jackson county, where Mr. Holcomb was appointed to the pastorate of the Methodist church. Rev. E. M. Sweet is the presiding elder of the district.

QUEST FOR PARENT'S RICHES

Daughter's Novel Action Revives International Romance at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md.—Alice Wilkins von Buckwaldt, a Baltimore girl, wife of Captain von Buckwaldt of the German army, has begun suit here to get possession of the estate left her by her father, who died many years ago, amounting to $250,000. Alice was the youngest child and her mother took her to Germany soon after her father's death. When twenty-one Alice attempted to get her property, but was refused, the executor claiming the will made him trustee for a longer period. The court of appeals ordered the property turned over to the heiress, but before this was done a new complication arose.

Miss Wilkins fell in love with a handsome captain in the German army, but her mother refused to give her consent to the match, fearing that the wooer was after her fortune. In vain did the girl plead that she knew better, but the mother was obdurate. Finally she said that she would give her consent if the daughter would make a deed of trust of the property in Baltimore so that the captain would not be able to get hold of it. The daughter made the deed of trust and her marriage followed.

The captain proved a good husband and he won his mother-in-law, who subsequently married a general, and both mother and daughter moved in the army set at the German capital. The trustee, when Mrs. von Buckwaldt sought to have the deed revoked, refused and her mother is now aiding her daughter's suit to have it set aside.

Two Frocked Robbers in Court Say "We Didn't, Didn't," While Accuser Says "You Did."

New York.—A small, indignant girl stood up in children's court and pointed a stubby and stained forefinger at two other little girls.

"Sure!" she said. "Them is they!" The complaining witness was eight-year-old Caroline Gross. She accused as being bold, bad highwaymen thirteen-year-old Rebecca Wax and ten-year-old Kate Rappino. The amount of loot, asserted the complaining witness was thirty cents.

"Aw! We never did!" chorused the accused.

"You did, too!" declared Miss Gross. According to the accuser, she had been going to the ice cream store, and in her hand was her purse with thirty cents in it. As she was coming home, she said, and reached the front of 228 East One Hundred and Seventh street, her home, the frocked highwaymen grabbed her and took the money.

"Oh, we didn't, didn't, didn't, didn't!" shouted the accused.

"You did, did, did, did, did!" insisted the complainant. "If you didn't, what made you run?"

"Well," said the accused, "we ran—because, that's why."

He told a companion and when the feeling returned, shouted: "I have it! Mother is sick. I am going home." When he reached his home in Pasadena his father told him his mother was in the hospital. Comparison of dates showed the first feeling of uneasiness came over him the day his mother became ill.

Motherhood

The highest point of woman's happiness is reached only through motherhood, in the clasping of her child within her arms. Yet the mother-to-be is often fearful of nature's ordeal and shrinks from the suffering incident to its consummation. But for nature's ills and discomforts nature provides remedies, and in Mother's Friend is to be found a medicine of great value to every expectant mother. It is an emulsion for external application, composed of ingredients which act with beneficial and soothing effect on those portions of the system involved. It is intended to prepare the system for the crisis, and thus relieve, in great part, the suffering through which the mother usually passes. The regular use of Mother's Friend will repay any mother in the comfort it affords before, and the helpful restoration to health and strength it brings about after baby comes. Mother's Friend is for sale at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

A Fine Way to Pay Debts.

When a newspaper man of New Orleans was preparing to leave that city in order to take a position in New York, a tailor named Eisenstein overwhelmed him with offers of new suits of clothes at unusually low prices. The writer finally took the clothes, put them on, and set out for New York, carefully neglecting to pay Mr. Eisenstein any money at all.

A few months later he received this communication from the tailor:

"Dear Sir: On looking over my books, I find that you are indebted to me in the sum of fifty dollars. Kindly remit same at your earliest convenience. Very truly yours,

Samuel Eisenstein."

Hurling himself upon his trusty typewriter, the newspaper man wrote the following gem:

"Dear Mr. Eisenstein: Inclosed find my check for one hundred dollars. If you can get it cashed, kindly remit the other fifty dollars."—The Popular Magazine.

BRIDGES OF THE INDIANS

Structures Found in North British Columbia Are Built on the Cantilever Principle.

Some interesting examples of Indian ingenuity are afforded on the River Skeena and its tributaries in North British Columbia, according to a writer in Scientific American. These waterways in their upper reaches flow swiftly and for the most part through deep ravines. As it is impossible for the Indians to cross them by means of canoes they have resorted to bridging.

Their bridges are interesting structures from the engineering point of view, inasmuch as the cantilever principle is adopted. A bridge of this design spans the Bulkley river where it is about 120 feet wide, and the height from the bridge to the water level is about 80 feet.

It is built of wooden logs, the logs of the structure being formed of single stout logs varying from 60 to 80 feet in length. The task of lowering them into position must have demanded considerable ingenuity on the part of the builders.

They are buried some 15 feet at their lower ends and anchored by the superimposition of masses of large rock rolled and carried to the site. The longitudinal members of the shore spans are similarly buried in the ground and lashed to the ends of the diagonal logs.

These main members—corresponding to deck girders, are about 120 feet in length, and to either end the A members of the superstructure are lashed. Elaborate cross bracing is resorted to in order to secure greater strength.

When the bridge was first erected the different members were simply secured together by willow thongs, but when the British Columbian government erected a more substantial suspension bridge lower down the river the Indians assembled and followed the white man's operations with great interest. They observed how the thick wire cables were slung and anchored, and accordingly decided to introduce wire into their own structure.

They procured the material for this purpose from wherever they could and introduced it in a most fantastic manner. Also when the Grand Trunk Pacific railway engineers commenced working on their track near by the Indians procured odds and ends, such as bolts and spikes, from their introduction in their bridge, so that now it is a strange looking piece of work, though the fundamental cantilever lines are still distinct.

Primitive Men of Giant Stature.
Eleven skeletons of primitive men, with foreheads sloping directly back from the eyes, and with two rows of teeth in the front of the upper jaw, have been uncovered at Craigshill, at Ellensburg, Wash. They were found about twenty feet below the surface, twenty feet back from the face of the slope, in a cement rock formation over which was a layer of shale. The rock was perfectly dry. The jaw bones, which easily break, are so large that they will go around the face of the man of today. The other bones are also much larger than those of the ordinary man. The femur is twenty inches long, indicating a man of eighty inches tall. The teeth in front are worn almost down to the jaw bones, due, it is believed, to eating uncooked foods and crushing hard substances with the teeth. The sloping skull shows an extremely low order of intelligence.

Would Make Natural Gas.
Sir William Ramsay, one of England's famous scientists, says there is absolutely nothing, so far as he can see, to prevent a bore-hole from being put down until the coal stratum is reached and the setting of the coal on fire by electricity, thus converting the coal in the bowels of the earth directly into gas. Air would be sent down to enable the coal to burn, the amount of air being restricted when sufficient heat had been engendered; steam would be sent down to provide a mixture of hydrogen and carbonic oxide, or water-gas; great gas engines would be mounted at the mouth of the pit or bore-hole, and the gas would be used to develop electric power.—Popular Mechanics.

Estimate Cost of Living.
The official bankruptcy department at Zurich, Switzerland, has just prepared, after careful study, a minimum wage tariff for both sexes. It is a curious document, attempting to prove what are the lowest sums upon which persons can live. The following are some of the tariffs per month which are considered absolutely necessary: Single men, $20; single women, $17.28; married couple without children, $19.92; with children up to six years of age, an increase of $1.44 per month for each child; children up to fourteen years, $1.92; and up to twenty years, $3.42 each per month. In this minimum official list are included life and illness insurance and doctors' fees.

Success and Its Friends.
When a man makes any kind of success, however small, he finds that his friends resolve themselves into three classes. The first class turn sullen, and show their envy in many mean ways. The second class wax more friendly than ever, and come showering their attentions. The third class show a reasonable pleasure at your success and remain just as they were before. God bless the last kind! God mend the second! and God pity the first!—Robert Nelson Stephens.

INCREASE IN MURDER

Inasmuch as our governor opposes our laws inflicting capital punishment, on the ground of Scripture and the advanced plane of our present day civilization, the following from the New York World may be of some interest to our people:

"Statistics just published show that the death rate from homicides in this country increased from an average of 5 for every 100,000 inhabitants during the decade ending with 1891 to 7.2 for the decade ending with 1911. We have to reflect upon the significance of the further fact that the corresponding record of homicides in England and Wales was less than 0.9 for every 100,000.

"Laws for the punishment of murder are much the same in Great Britain and in all parts of the United States. The one essential difference is that in Great Britain the laws are enforced, the courts act promptly, trials follow swiftly upon arrest, and punishment upon conviction. In this country the records show that exactly in proportion as the law is lax and courts are slow, so homicides increase in frequency.

"The lesson being plain, the moral is plainer. We can check the increase of murder just as soon as we make would-be murderers know that punishment will be sure and swift. We can check it in no other way."

The appalling murders that have recently taken place over our state should give our governor pause. There is a large element in human society that nothing but the fear of death will restrain; that removed, no man's life is safe.

AIDED IN DEATH OF WOMAN

Man Surrenders to Police, Declaring That His Conscience Has Been Troubling Him.

New York.—Evan Evanson of 1425 Bath avenue, Bath Beach, an elderly man of impressive appearance, called at police headquarters in Manhattan and asked to see the person in charge, if there were any one on duty so late at night and it was not too much trouble.

Lieut. James Dunn, who lately has grown a little sensitive to criticism of the difficulties which persons who desire to surrender for crime or give testimony against criminals are said to have experienced, sent out word that Mr. Evanson was to come right in.

"Fifteen years ago," said Mr. Evanson, "I was responsible for the death of a woman, Margaret Lens, in Brooklyn. My conscience troubles me in my old age and I wish to surrender."

The telephone helped to find two detectives in Brooklyn who were willing to come over and take charge of him, and Mr. Evanson was locked up in the Adams street station over night.

When he was arraigned before Magistrate Dodd, Assistant District Attorney Lee, who had been looking up the death of Margaret Lens, told the magistrate that the health department books showed that Margaret Lens died July 30, 1898, of Bright's disease and that Coroner Delapha had so certified.

"I know that," said Evanson. "I am not exactly a murderer. But I want to tell the grand jury how I am responsible."

Magistrate Dodd committed Mr. Evanson to the Kings county hospital for observation for five days.

FORTUNE FOR ILLEGAL SON

Father Advertises for Kin, Now Fifty-two Years Old, Whom He Plans to Give $60,000.

Philadelphia, Pa.—The following advertisement in the newspapers tells a remarkable tale of an old wrong, with the attempt of the father to right himself after fifty years of silence:

"In the spring of 1860, a few miles from Lancaster, a boy child was born to a German girl named Caroline, who a short time after died, but the child lived. If any one can give any information about this kindly write to C. J. Nyholm, 478 North Third street, Philadelphia."

Mr. Nyholm is an insurance broker and at his home he told the story of an aged and grief-stricken old man, who in his declining years desires to give the child of whom he is the father $60,000. He has not seen the child since 1888, when it is thought that the young man went to Lancaster, being somewhere in the farming section at that time. The father intended to marry the mother of his offspring, but went to the Civil war, and when he was mustered out he found she had died during his absence.

PIN IN LIVER 20 YEARS; DIES

Operation Apparently Successful, But Brooklyn Girl's Strength Fails—First Case of Kind.

New York.—Miss Kathryn Roche, Brooklyn, died in the Prospect Heights hospital, and a surgical examination into the cause of her mysterious illness revealed the fact that for 20 years a small pin had been in her liver.

No similar case has ever come to the knowledge of New York surgeons. Twenty years ago Miss Roche was taken to Seney hospital. It was the thought that she was suffering from an ordinary stomach malady and the doctors sent her home. A recent operation was apparently successful, but the vitality of the patient was not sufficient to carry her through the reactionary period.

MOVING HABIT DIVORCE PLEA

Minneapolis Man Says His Wife Has Changed Abode Twenty-nine Times.

Minneapolis, Minn.—If a man is compelled by his wife to move twenty-nine times in the seventeen years of his married life, is it ground for a divorce?

W. P. Crawley of this city believes it is, and has asked that the court grant him freedom. In his petition he declares that the "moving habit" formed by his wife has become unbearable; that she "beat him up" with a broom, and that he gave all his earnings to his wife, who spent them, forcing him to borrow from his brother to provide for his needs.

Weds His Grandniece.
Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—Stephen Scott, seventy-five years old, a wealthy resident of Dutchess county, has married his grandniece, Miss Alice See, twenty-two years old. They had never seen each other until a few days ago.

Cleveland to Bar Loafers.
Cleveland.—Because the faces on public square benches had become familiar through hot days and nights, Police Chief Kohler has ordered habitual loafers barred from the city's downtown breathing places.

Supposed Body Is Dummy.
Chicago.—A horrified crowd ran to the front of the Y. W. C. A. building on Michigan avenue after the body of a woman hit the sidewalk with a dull thud. They found a dummy dressed in an old skirt and jacket.

TAFT'S THANKSGIVING DAY PROCLAMATION

Washington, Nov. 7.—President Taft today issued the Thanksgiving proclamation setting aside Nov. 28 for the observance of that day. The proclamation follows:

"By the President of United States of America.

"A proclamation:

"A God-fearing Nation like ours owes it to its inborn and sincere sense of moral duty to testify its devout gratitude to the All-Giver for the countless benefits it has enjoyed. For many years it has been customary at the close of the year for the National Executive to call upon his fellow-countrymen to offer praise and thanks to God for the manifold blessings vouchsafed to them in the past, and to unite in earnest compliance for their continuance.

"The year now drawing to a close has been notably favorable to our fortune land. At peace within and without, free from the perturbations and calamities that have afflicted other peoples; rich in harvests so abundant and in industries so productive that the overflow of our prosperity has advantaged the whole world; strong in the steadfast conservation of the heritage of self-government bequeathed to us by the wisdom of our fathers and firm in the resolve to transmit that heritage unimpaired, but rather improved by good use, to our children and our children's children for all time to come, the people of this country have abundant cause for contented gratitude.

"Wherefore, I, William Howard Taft, President of the United States of America, in pursuance of long-established usage and in response to the wish of the American people, invite my countrymen, whosoever they may sojourn, to join, on Thursday, the 28th day of this month of November, in appropriate ascription of praise and thanks to God for the good gifts that have been our portion and in humble prayer that his great mercies toward us may endure.

"In witness whereof I have here-unto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. "Done at the city of Washington, this seventh day of November, in the year of our Lord 1912, and of the independence of the United States of America the 137th.

"WILLIAM H. TAFT,

"By the President:
"ALVEY A. ADEE, Acting Secretary of State."
